Bradley I hope the present moment will not be an unfavourable one for attempting an impartial examination of Mr. Bradley s metaphysical position. As this paper will be chiefly critical, I should like to begin by saying that I am one of those who do place Mr. Bradley among the classics of Philosophy. When Appearance and Reality came out, Dr. Edward Caird said that it was the greatest thing since Kant. I should like respectfully to subscribe that dictum at least in the form there has been nothing greater since Kant . It is not likely, indeed, that Mr. Bradley s actual reputation will ever place him quite in this position. The greatest and most enduring philosophical reputations will always be those of men who have not merely offered a new solution of the technical problems of Philosophy but have expounded some new and characteristic attitude towards life. Mr. Bradley - apart from a few obiter dicta which in all spheres except the religious are for the most part...
